Guaranteed Income Without Any Initial Investment

Will you be able to survive the current recession and build a reliable income stream to help sustain future growth? Our program will add to your security without taking away any of your creative time. Let us help you not only add to your income, but also do it in a way that will advertise your establishment in a subtle and professional way. Our most important guarantee is that we become a part of your company culture. Our personnel will not interfere in the way you expect your employees to serve your customers.

We will do a culture and value audit of your business to ensure that we will be sure to incorporate those intangibles that have made your success possible. Our relationship will be built upon a knowledge of your business and upon your trust in our abilities to meet your highest expectations.

Recording Memories: An Instant Seller

Human nature, a powerful and emotional motivator, will call upon memories to amuse, comfort and recall the most intimate and pleasant times of our lives. It is not unusual for people to wish out loud that they had a “picture of that” during the times that they will most often wish to recall. Psychological research has demonstrated that pictures are the most common triggers to those emotionally pleasing events. That is why people reach for their high school or college yearbooks when they want to recall a special moment or person. Parents spend hours creating scrapbooks for their children and brides want wedding albums.

Recording Memories: Profit Without Any Investment by You

Eventful Photos, after years of photographing special events has developed a companion program to record and display memories where they begin. Candid pictures of people having a fun time with family, friends and loved ones are priceless mementos of good times. Our program is designed to capture those moments in digital form and create on site items which will display the pictures in useable or displayable formats. Most importantly, these items can also display the name and location of your business. Our agents take the photos and create the items and collect for them at your location. You then share in the profit of each item. Our goal is to provide a turnkey operation that will compliment your business and the atmosphere you have established for your business or service. We describe our service as seamless events that add immediate and lasting value to the total experience of your customers.
